News from Class 5

What a year it has been; it has been lovely getting to know the children. They have worked so hard and I have been so proud of their effort, resilience, kindness and positivity throughout the year. As we come to the end of the school year., it is lovely to see and reflect upon the progress that has been made by all.

The Class have now finished reading Kensuke's Kingdom by Michael Morpurgo and they absolutely loved it, especially the ending! The class got so much out of this fabulous book and have produced some amazing narratives based on the events surrounding Michael and how he became re-united with his family. As well as the fantastic writing the book has inspired, it has also got the children thinking about other countries and cultures, which is so important and a massive part of our ethos at Bede.

This half term, Class 5 have spent time designing and making their own board games. The class were tasked with designing their very own board game based around the theme of desert islands (like Kensuke's Kingdom). There were some fantastic results and it was so lovely to see the children being so creative and also to see the teamwork and support they showed in helping their friends finish their board games to the highest standard.

Finally, I just wanted to say well done to Class 5 for a stellar year. I have been so impressed by the determination and great work the children have produced. They have shown just how much they want to improve. I'm sure that they will do fantastic things as they move into year 6 and impress their next teacher, Mr Riley, as much as they have impressed me.

Keep up the good work, class 5, you're a fab bunch and the sky is the limit!
